SMUGGLING CASE OF CHINESE ON TRIAL

Interesting Developments in Conspiracy Case Before
Federal Court.

That Chinamen are willing to go to any extreme to gain admission to the "land of the free" is indicated by testimony introduced by the government in the case of the United States against Mar Been Kee and other Chi-nemen, charged with forming a conspiracy to illegally import Chinamen into the United States. Immigration Inspector Stone, on cross examination by the district attorney stated that one of the Chinamen alleged to have been smuggled into this country marked himself with a scar on the forehead in order that he might fit the description given in the certificate of residence which he possessed.

The Point of Entrance.
After the government rested late in the afternoon Tuesday, the defence placed Charlie Soo on the stand and after drawing out a denial of the government's conspiracy charge, the witness was turned over to the government for examination. There followed a clash of the intellect of the oriental, with all of its subtlety and alertness with the intellect of the Anglo-Saxon, quick, prying, logical. Soo does not speak English, so the interrogation and answers were made through the interpreter, Fung Ming. Soo's attitude on the stand was that of Bret Hart's heaven Chinese, "child like and bland."

In answer to a question by the district attorney, Soo stated that he thought the culprits on the Southern Pacific railroad, near the station of Anapra, N. M., "was the proper place" to enter into the United States and none of the sarcastic thrusts of the district attorney, interpreted by Fung Ming, shook that childlike blandness and simplicity.

Tells of Capture.
Inspector A. P. Lawler, an exmember of the secret service of the customs in the Philippines and exmember of the Philippine constabulary, gave his version of the capture of the four Chi-nemen on the night of April 8, 1910, as a witness for the government.

The Two for Boston.
Inspector Stone testified that in his conversation with the alleged conspirators the prospective citizens of the U. S. were referred to simply as "the two for Fresno," "the two for New York" or "the two for Boston." The bulk of the testimony offered Tuesday afternoon was in following up the purchase of a camera from Feldman's in El Paso and tracing the check from the time it was paid. L. Levy, a delivery boy at Feldman's testified that Yee Kim Yoke looked like the man to whom he delivered the camera and got a check as payment. Yoke was also identified as the man seen purchasing tickets at the Santa Fe ticket office on April 9, the tickets being offered as evidence.

The Money Orders.
Four money orders, cashed, it is alleged, by the government, by Mar Been Kee, were also offered in evidence by the government. They were for $50 each, and were issued from Chatham square, New York, on January 10, 1910, and bore the endorsement of Ming Wo Ing Wo of C. Juarez. They are alleged by the government to have been cashed by Mar Been Kee on April 8.

Inspector Johnson, testifying for the government, stated that he was a member of the party of inspectors which captured the five Chinamen on the night of April 8. He stated that the certificates found on two of the Chi-nemen bore names which were not the names given him then and there by the two Chinamen.

The examination of Charlie Soo was resumed Tuesday morning at 9:30. Soo is one of the principals in the conspiracy charge brought by the government. Mar Been Kee, another of the principals, was next examined, and Yee Kim Yok was being examined when court adjourned at noon. His testimony was continued when court re-convened at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.
There is a possibility of the case being given to the jury this afternoon.

"UNHOLY ALLIANCE" SAYS ROOSEVELT OF DEMOCRATS

Denounces New York Democracy as Pact Between Wall Street and Tammany Hall.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—Theodore Roosevelt denounced the Democratic party in New York as "an unholy alliance between Wall street and Tammany Hall." In a speech here last night, and attacked the Democratic party in Missouri by calling it the party "that represents the special interests and special privileges."

Col. Roosevelt also defended the present position of the Republican party in regard to the tariff. He said the party was united on the doctrine that the tariff shall be such as to equalize the cost of production here and abroad, and that it should be regulated by a commission.

He said that under the present system it was impossible to obtain satisfactory results, and added that, when the commission system was established there should be governmental supervision to determine whether the workmen were getting the benefit they were supposed to have from the tariff.
